Warning no longer in force: North Sea coast from Staithes to Whitby in…

Environment Agency warning area | checked 2026-11-13T12:08:51Z

Street map

OpenStreetMap · current map data

Satellite context · 2016

Historical Sentinel-2 mosaic · not current flood imagery

Warning no longer in force boundary | approx. 6.422 km²

The boundary is the official warning area, not an observed flood extent.

Data © OpenStreetMap contributors (ODbL); rendering © EOX and MapServer.
https://www.openstreetmap.org/copyright · https://maps.eox.at/ · OpenStreetMap data: ODbL 1.0

EOxCloudless https://cloudless.eox.at by EOX IT Services GmbH (Contains modified Copernicus Sentinel data 2016)
Satellite: CC BY 4.0 · https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/ · OSM overlay: © OpenStreetMap contributors (ODbL)

Approx. warning-area boundary: 6.422 km² | WGS 84 (EPSG:4326)

Warning and forecast polygons are not observed inundation; no impact or casualty estimates are inferred.

This uses Environment Agency flood and river level data from the real-time data API (Beta).
Environment Agency data · Open Government Licence v3.0

TechnicalGIS Environmental News Desk
TechnicalGIS.com/news-desk/ · Historical satellite imagery is contextual, not a flood observation.